ABSTRACT

YOHANES RAI BABUT, 2024 "Website for Connecting Beat Instrumental Producers with Artists Through Chatbox." Final Project, Diploma in Information Technology, Universitas Sangga Buana YPKP. Supervisor: Bayu Juliandani, S.T., M.M.

This website aims to connect music producers and artists or singers through an efficient and user-friendly website. This website is designed to facilitate collaboration between producers and artists in creating music with a chatbox feature that can be used by producers and artists to communicate and share references in the form of MP3 files. Using the Waterfall software development method, this research covers the stages of requirements analysis, system design, implementation, and testing. The research results show that this website can improve the efficiency and effectiveness of music collaboration, enable better communication between producers and artists, and support innovation in the digital music industry.

Keywords: music collaboration, music producers, artists, beat instrumental.